

The 18th-century Transatlantic Slave Trade

A structured day that immerses your pupils in the people, objects and stories linked to Lancaster's role in the 18th-century Transatlantic Slave Trade.

Where is it at: Lancaster Maritime Museum

Who is it for? KS2

Learning Outcomes: Start by exploring the City of Lancaster with our expert guide, or using our self-led resource pack, which makes teaching the subject much easier for you with visual guides and prompts. Return to the museum and enjoy your packed lunch on the Quay Meadow or in the education room. Then enjoy a hands-on afternoon exploring the museum and its collection, culminating in a fun, reflective and creative figurative clay session inspired by the day.

Availability: Monday to Friday

Recommended timings:

Arrival for 9:30am (City Tour starts at 10am).

Afternoon activities begin at 12:45pm.

Recommended departure at 2:30pm.

To enquire or book:

Contact Rachel, Museum Officer (Education & Outreach) at historydetectives@lancaster.gov.uk

Options & Costs

Self-Guide Walking Tour: FREE

Resources are available to borrow free of charge. Familiarisation beforehand recommended.

Guide-led Walking Tour: £120

Delivered by experienced tour guide and educator Eleanor Levin, providing in-depth knowledge while keeping things easier for you.

Museum Activities: £3 per child

Splitting the group into two, one of our museum education team will support exploration of the museum exhibits and objects, whilst another will lead a reflective clay session based on Kevin Dalton Johnson's maquette for the Captured Africans Memorial, seen on the City Tour.

Georgian Lancaster

www.lancaster.gov.uk/museums

LANCASTER CITY COUNCIL
Promoting City, Coast & Countryside